Shannon was a Deputy District Attorney for Clackamas County when she founded the Angels in the Outfield in 2009. She had been a prosecutor since 1996 and her caseload for quite some time had involved domestic violence and child physical and sexual abuse cases. Shannon had just prosecuted one of the worst sexual abuse cases in her career, and she realized that more had to be done for this young victim and others like her. She was worried that the "system" was not equipped to deal with long term issues related to victimization and healing. Shannon was blessed with a wonderful family and supportive parents, but not all children, including vulnerable children who are abused and neglected, get to experience what she did.

Shannon's hope was, and is, that the Angels in the Outfield will provide hope to children who fall within our mission. That getting to experience or do things that they may not have otherwise, or participate in an activity or event, or have something that will assist them on a day to day basis will be the impetus for healing.

Shannon has her own law office in Oregon City, Bertrand-Kmetic, Attorney at Law.
