

Angels in the Outfield

One child at a time...

Carol Glenn,

Holiday Store Volunteer Coordinator/School Liason

Carol was born in Oregon and lived here most of her life. She grew up with a loving father who was a Jr. High School teacher for over thirty years. She knew at a young age that she wanted to follow in his footsteps. She met and married her college sweetheart, Rob, while attending Western Oregon State College where she received her degree in Language Arts Secondary Education. They have been married for 31 years, have two children, a son-in-law, a “bonus” daughter, two goofy dogs and a darling grandpup.

Coming from a broken home instilled in Carol a desire to provide stability, not only for her own children, but their friends as well. She chose to be a stay-at-home mom while her kids were young, but always found ways to volunteer in her community. She has served on the board of H.O.P.E (Helping Other People Eat), acted as a peer counselor for women facing unplanned pregnancies, coordinated the community outreach programs at her church, coached high school tennis, and fostered puppies for Oregon Dog Rescue.

In 2010, Carol returned to her first love of teaching and took an Instructional Assistant position at her kid’s elementary school. During the last twelve years, Carol has witnessed first hand the crippling effects of adverse childhood experiences on many of her students. Carol and her husband became aware of Angels mission through their friend, Shannon, and have been enthusiastic supporters for many years.

After deciding to retire, she jumped at the opportunity to continue helping to meet the needs of these vulnerable children through serving on the Executive Board.

Carol joined the Angels board in 2022.
